The
SHERBORNE
CASTLES 10KM

SUNDAY 14th MARCH 2010

England Athletics Licence applied for - Run under uk:athletics rules

Sir Walter Raleigh literally fell in love with Sherborne Castle. Whilst riding between London and Plymouth early one morning he passed close by and was so taken with the view that he is said to have fallen from his horse and into the good Dorset mud. Undeterred, he purchased the Estate and set about building the "New" Castle and a glorious garden between the two. Little remains of Sir Walter's garden as it was flooded by "Capability" Brown to form the Castle's lake, except the terrace seat where it is believed he was sitting enjoying a pipe of tobacco when his faithful servant threw a tankard of ale over him to douse what he imagined to be a fire. We hope you won't fall into the mud and we won't waste beer by throwing it at you, but we do hope that you will enjoy the challenging course through the stunning grounds of the Sherborne Castle Estate!

*"Was in two minds as to whether to come out today, but am really pleased I did.
Fabulous scenery - castles, misty fields, lake, statues, woods - something for everyone!"
2005 entrant "Leg It", RW Forum*
